The stability of Jupiter Mines' dividend payments reflects the strength and cost competitiveness of the Tshipi manganese mine, which continues to generate strong cash flows through market cycles. With a resource life exceeding 100 years at current production rates, Tshipi is a world-class asset that underpins Jupiter's ability to deliver consistent shareholder returns.

Jupiter's Managing Director Brad Rogers commented:

"Tshipi's quality resource and experienced management team have enabled the mine to maintain a strong operational performance over the past six months, despite volatile market conditions for much of the period. This resilience, along with Tshipi's low-cost operations and robust cash flows, positions Jupiter to deliver reliable dividends while pursuing long-term value creation."

The FY2025 interim dividend represents a circa 5% dividend yield (10% annualised) at Jupiter's current share price bringing total dividends declared, since listing in April 2018, to A$410 million (A$0.21 per share). Over the past seven years, the Company has returned dividends totalling around 127% of its current market capitalisation, reinforcing the long-term value of the Tshipi operation.
